BERLIN, May 18.—Gratified over the world reception accorded his stirring plea for peace and equality, Chancellor Adolf Hitler moved swiftly today to translate his words into action.

He summoned Dr. Rudolph Nadolny, chief German delegate to the disarmament conference at Geneva, and charged him with the task of laying Germany's offers and proposals in behalf of European peace before the arms parley.

Nadolny was told that the speech of Chancellor Hitler, which pledged Germany to full support of President Roosevelt's disarmament proposals and strict adherence to the MacDonald plan if other nations

The manner in which automobile travel is yearly becoming more common, is attested to by the great number of license plates from distant states, which are seen on the streets here. During the past few days, Pa Newc noted cars bearing license plates from Oklahoma, Arizona, California and Texas, to say nothing of the number from immediately adjoining states. Ten years ago, travel between states was far more difficult, but one can go almost anywhere in the country now over good roads.

Business Comes Back Quicker Than It Goes Down—Vauclain

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, May 18.—Radiating optimism for the future, Samuel M. Vauclain, chairman of the board of the Baldwin Locomotive Workers, celebrated his 77th birthday today.

In a message of confidence in which he urged the nation to support President Roosevelt wholeheartedly, Vauclain said:

"Depressions are all the same." I have been through them all since the panic of 1873, and I have noticed business always comes back more quickly than it goes down. The swing upward has begun and the steps taken by the president have started it."

Thousand Militiamen On Duty In Wisconsin In Milk Strike Area

(International News Service)

MILWAUKEE, Wis., May 18.—With violence, disorder and bloodshed growing hourly along the 250 mile milk strike front authorities today mobilized more than half of Wisconsin's national guardsmen with full military equipment for duty in the rebellion zones.

Uniforms and field equipment were distributed for the first time to more than 1,000 militiamen serving as deputies in the milk strike area. Thus far the guardsmen have acted as deputy sheriffs, armed only with pistols and riot clubs. Fourteen additional companies of guardsmen were held in readiness on orders of the governor.

Organized Rebellion

As the milk strike went into the sixth day today authorities characterized the increasing disorders as "organized rebellion."

Following two large scale battles in which militiamen and deputies fought striking members of the Wisconsin cooperative milk pool with tear gas and clubs. A. G. Schmedeman telegraphed the following order to sheriffs in 18 counties:

"Arrest all persons actively engaged in dumping milk. Vigorous enforcement of civil and criminal law is demanded by the state."

Two Hundred Held

Two hundred strikers and sympathizers were taken prisoners and scores of guardsmen and deputies were injured, several seriously, in Northern Shawano and Milwaukee counties as massed picketers tried to halt milk shipments, precipitating sharp fighting.

Russell Helding, 19, was shot and seriously wounded in Racine when guardsmen dispersed 600 strikers with tear gas and clubs.

The battles at Shawano followed the opening of the four plants of the Consolidated Badger Cooperative, which had been closed since Tuesday, when the farmers took virtual possession of the community, threatening to destroy the creamery plant until it was shut down.

Lay Groundwork For Halting Of Sino-Jap Fight

Indicated That Both China And Japan Would Welcome Halt In Hostilities

PEACE TERMS ARE BEING CONSIDERED

(International News Service)

SHANGHAI, May 18.—Groundwork has been laid for an armistice in the Sino-Japanese conflict, in which the Peiping-Tientsin area of China is now threatened by Japanese forces, according to reports here today.

Recommendations to both governments for an end of the fighting, it was stated, have followed informal conferences between representatives of the embattled nations, but definite action awaits formal discussion.

Conflict May End

These reports, closely following the mission of General Hwang Fu to North China, have strengthened the belief the hostilities may soon come to an end.

Under the tentative peace terms now being considered, it is understood, China would promise to keep her troops south of the Lwan river while Japan would withdraw hers north of the great wall.

Fall Fatal To Home Resident

James Wiggins, Aged Resident At County Home, Found Dead This Morning

HAD FALLEN FROM ROOF OF BUILDING

James Wiggins, aged 80 years, a resident at the county home, was killed in a fall from the roof of the home at an early hour this morning. His body was found by officials at the home, when he was missed at breakfast time.

He was last seen about 5 o'clock, by an attendant at the home who had awakened him to get dressed. When he went to call him for breakfast, he could not be found and on investigating his body was discovered near the steps leading from the women's department of the home.

He is believed to have walked out onto the roof from the hospital section, and to have climbed up onto the wall surrounding the roof, which is about three feet in height, losing his balance and falling to the ground below, a distance of about 30 feet.

Death resulted from a fractured skull, his head having struck the steps leading out of the entrance to the women's section of the home. Coroner Orville Potter who investigated the case stated this morning that he believed Wiggin's death to have been accidental.

Mrs. Perry Snyder, matron at the home, stated this morning that Wiggins had resided at the home on two different occasions, having come there the second time last summer. He was of a wandering disposition, and had been struck by an automobile on one occasion when he got out onto the road, but was not seriously injured.

Funeral arrangements have not been announced.

Hitler Commended By World Opinion

(International News Service)

World opinion today commended Chancellor Adolf Hitler of Germany for his dramatic speech in behalf of peace and equality before the Reichstag yesterday.

Only a few notes of skepticism crept in as government spokesmen and newspapers in the capitals of Europe discussed his sweeping proposals.

The Italian Press hailed the address as "unequivocal proof" that European peace will be maintained.

In London where the stock market reacted favorably as a result of the address, newspapers predicted the speech would create a "better atmosphere" at Geneva.

Some sections of the French press saw an attempt to shift the blame to France in event the disarmament conference fails.

Meanwhile, International News Service learned in Paris that Norman H. Davis, special American Ambassador, would announce America's willingness to cooperate in all-embracing consultative pact when the disarmament conference reassembles tomorrow.

Davis Carrying American Offer To Arms Parley

Indications Roosevelt To End American Policy Of Isolation

BRITISH PLAN TO BE SUPPORTED

United States Seeks To Push Measures For World Disarmament

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, May 18.—President Roosevelt and his state department aides eagerly awaited the world's response to his universal peace plan, Norman H. Davis, America's roving ambassador of peace, today was due in Geneva with the offer of American severance from 13 years of isolation in return for drastic reduction of armaments.

Davis carried with him instructions to throw American support behind the British disarmament plan and offer as a bargaining point America's willingness to enter into a consultative pact, participate in an international commission to supervise control of armaments and give favorable consideration to the question of abandoning certain neutrality rights in or to prevent nationals from trading with an aggressor nation.

How much the United States will give depends on how drastically the world powers agree to disarm.

Willingness to enter into a consultative pact will be the first offer, with participation in an international commission to supervise the control of armaments the second, and abandonment of the right to protect nationals trading with an aggressor nation the third and ultimate offer.

Must Sacrifice.

The latter, officials said, is un-

Plan To Build Naval Vessels

Thirty-Four Naval Vessels Likely To Be Built By United States

HOPE TO REACH TREATY STRENGTH

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, May 18.—Thirty-four naval vessels will be laid down this year at an outlay of about $46,000,000, under the re-employment plan of the president submitted to congress. This was the prediction today of Rep. Vinson (D) of Georgia, chairman of the house naval affairs committee.

Under the bill which accompanied the message, the president is to be given authority to build the navy up to treaty strength, together with authority to suspend any or all of the program at any time a new international agreement may be entered into to limit naval strength. Vinson said this authority is sufficient to begin on the program outlined above, and that doubtless it will be undertaken in its entirety.

The $46,000,000 involved would be only the money spent on the treaty-strength naval program for this year. Increasing amounts would go into building the vessels next year and the year after, providing the construction if not halted by entrance of the government into a new agreement to cut off national defense programs at a definite limit.

President Expects Plan To Provide Jobs For Millions In Short Time

By WILLIAM S. NEAL
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON May 18—With administration leaders promising passage of President Roosevelt's program of industry control and public works within 10 days, the house ways and means committee today opened hearings upon the measure.

The problem of raising $220,000,000 annually in taxes to finance the $3,300,000,000 public works plan confronted the committee at the outset, with treasury officials scheduled to testify.

The program as a whole met a favorable reception in Congress, which spread optimism among those charged with translating the program into law.

Congress Stunned

Although most of the features of the bill submitted by the president with his message had been well known, the full scope of the plan as shown by the bill literally stunned the rank and file of Congress.

The power conferred upon the president in the measure is declared in some respects to surpass any proposal yet laid before Congress. Under the measure the president by express or indirect authority: (This power would be limited over products moving in interstate commerce.)

WILL ROGERS says:

(Special To The News)

BEVERLY HILLS, Cal., May 18.—Say, this man, Roosevelt not only makes congress roll over and play dead, but by golly, he made this tough guy Hitler promise to bring sticks out of the water. Is there no end to this man's cleverness?

'Course there is one thing about Europe. You never can believe 'em the first time. They will agree to anything till it comes time to sign up.

This might be just the ideal time to stop a war, for nobody has anything to fight one with. Like disarmament, it's not done for humanitarian reasons. It's only done for economic reasons.

The whole thing seems too good to be true, but the whole world is changing, so maybe they are going to turn human.

CHICAGO WORLD'S FAIR ABOUT READY TO OPEN

By CARL L. TURNER
International News Service Staff Correspondent

CHICAGO, May 18.—America's second largest metropolis today found itself in much the same predicament as that harried gentleman with a sparkling bottle, but no corkscrew.

Finishing touches were being put on a 25 million dollar world fair almost ready for the grand opening on May 27, but try as they might, its sponsors could find no logical dignitary available to formally open it.

Rufus Dawes, president of a Century of Progress, long has entertained the idea of having his excellency, the president of the United States, break the bottle of milk, or whatever else is available, over the turnstiles as the first of millions of visitors pass through.

This, it developed, is unfortunately but nevertheless definitely and finally out. President Roosevelt is all for the idea, but matters of state preclude his presence in Chicago on that date. He hopes to attend later.

Vice President John Nance Garner mulled over the possibility of substituting for the chief executive only to abandon the trip because he, too, is a very busy man these days.

So a century of progress threw up its modernistic hands in despair and tossed the nominating of an official world fair opener right back into the lap of the busy president. If Mr. Roosevelt cannot come himself, surely he will send some eminent White House representative, they hoped.

And there the matter rests today. It may be the charming Mrs. Roosevelt who is selected; it may be the affable gentleman of the brown derby, Al Smith, os someone else close to the president.

"We will be satisfied to accept the president's choice," Maj. Lenox R. Lohr, exposition general manager, said while directing a force of 5,000 men who are whipping the vast lakefront fairgrounds into shape for the premiere.

CHICAGO, May 18.—Mayor Edward J. Kelly today proclaimed a six-day prosperity drive to stimulate a wave of buying before the open-

Cuban Rebels Attack Towns

Most Serious Revolutionary Movement Of Machado Regime Has Broken Out

SANTA CLARA IS SCENE OF BATTLE

By CLIFFORD GALLOWAY
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HAVANA, May 18—(Via telephone to New York)—The most serious revolutionary movement since the inauguration of the Machado regime broke out today in Santa Clara province.

An insurgent force estimated to number between 900 and 1,200 men landed on the south coast from Trinidad and were immediately joined by other Cuban insurrectionary bands.

The preliminary skirmishes between 75 and 100 men have been killed.

Rebels Attack.

The rebels immediately attacked the towns of Sancti Spiritus, where insurgents were active earlier in the week, and Moron, as well as the town of El Acuepagos.

Col. Arsenio Ortiz, commanding federal forces in Santa Clara province, stronghold of the revolutionary movement, telegraphed to Havana for reinforcements.

Troops were rushed to the scene under command of Col. Aramo Delgado.

Ortiz is stationed in Sancti Spiritus with 400 men. His original instructions from President Gerardo Machado were to take no prisoners.

Many Deserting.

Desertions were reported occurring at a rate which seriously alarmed military authorities. More than 100 federal soldiers in Santa Clara were reported to have gone over to the rebel side.

Reports from hospitals where wounded and dying federal soldiers were taken indicated the insurgents were resorting to the use of poison bullets.

Heads Of Many Nations Approve U. S. Peace Plan

More Than Half 54 Nations Verbally Approve Roosevelt's Proposal

FOUR POINT PLAN FOR WORLD PEACE

Some Nations Giving Extravagant Interpretation To U. S. Move

By GEORGE R. HOLMES
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, May 18.—The world appeared today to be falling in line with President Roosevelt's four-point program for the maintenance of international peace.

Replies from nearly half the fifty-four sovereigns addressed by the president in his epochal message of Tuesday were in; their approval couched in terms ranging all the way from enthusiastic and complete support to cautious "acceptance in principle."

It is recognized, however, that the real test will come when the powers get around the table in Geneva to translate their verbal praise into something more lasting and concrete.

Extravagant Interpretation

The administration has been concerned—and somewhat embarrassed—by the extravagant interpretations of the Roosevelt plan in some of the foreign capitals.

A number of them, London and Paris included, have jumped to the

Rebuild Hawk Battery Plant

Work In Progress On New Plant At East New Castle Building

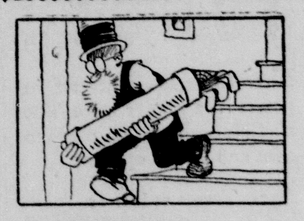

After considering a number of offers from other cities, the Simplex Battery company has decided to rebuild its plant on the site of the old one, at East New Castle, according to E. D. Hawk, general manager of the plant. Work has already started and is being rushed.

The new plant will be of brick construction, one story high with a pent house in one corner for supplies, and in size is 100 feet by 100 feet. A new concrete floor has been floated over the old concrete base and the brick work is started. The steel work will be put in as soon as possible and by rushing every possible piece of work it is hoped to have the building under cover inside of ten days.

The plant of the battery company was completely destroyed some months ago by fire. Hardly a thing was saved, except the boiler equipment and a few pieces of machinery. Some flattering offers were made by Chambers of Commerce in other cities but Mr. Hawk and the directors of the company concluded they would stay in New Castle.

When it is completed the plant will have a capacity of 500 batteries per day.

WORK ON CONTRACT STARTS IN AUGUST

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, May 18.—The American Bridge Company today announced receipt of final contracts for $22,000,000 worth of steel to be used in construction of the San Francisco-Oakland bridge.

Approximately 124,000 tons of structural steel are included in the orders, most of which will be fabricated at the Ambridge and Gary plants of American Bridge and by American Steel & Wire company.

Company officials said they believed the order the largest of its kind ever let.

Draftsmen will begin work immediately drawing plans for the steel, officials said. Actual fabrication will not start until August. The orders are expected to furnish a "valuable backlog" to keep the mills operating throughout next winter.

likely to be sacrificed unless the world powers agree to a very great contribution to disarmament, such as the complete abolition of all offensive weapons of war.

President Roosevelt considers that complete abolition of all offensive weapons, such as bombing airplanes, heavy mobile artillery, heavy tanks and gas is the objective to be sought. However, he has let it be understood that this nation will be satisfied with the British disarament plan, which is regarded by him as a first step towards this objective.

United States Waiting.

By WILLIAM PARKER
International News Service Staff Correspondent

PARIS, May 18.—The United States will define the extent of her willingness to collaborate with Europe only after Europe has conclusively demonstrated ability to disarm and conciliate.

This, International News Service was informed today, was the substance of the message given Premier Daladier by Norman H. Davis, American ambassador at large, when the two men conferred in private following Chancellor Adolf Hitler's conciliatory speech on arms.

Davis made the statement to Daladier after the French premier intimated France was disappointed over failure of President Roosevelt's message to indicate the United States was prepared to enter a consultative pact.

Way Is Cleared.

LONDON, May 18.—The way was cleared today for a four-power effort to obtain Germany's support of the aims of the disarmament conference following Chancellor Adolf Hitler's declaration that the Reich supports President Roosevelt's peace plea but refuses to remain an inferior nation.

With British officialdom relieved by the mild tone of Hitler's arms equality speech, it was learned Norman H. Davis, American ambassador at large, has personally requested presence of Sir John Simon, British foreign secretary, at Geneva to aid him in bringing the arms conference to a successful conclusion.

Agreeable To Pact.

PARIS, May 18.—The United States is agreeable to a consultative pact embraced by all countries, Norman H. Davis, American ambassador at large, will tell the disarmament conference when it reassembles tomorrow, International News Service learned today.

Davis will leave for Geneva tonight to be present at the reconvening of the full conference, at which he is scheduled to be the third speaker.

While Davis worked hard to complete the text of the speech he will make before the conference, it became known that under the consultative pact to be outlined by Davis, if a nation is branded an aggressor by unanimous decision of all other nations, the United States will be willing to forego the neutrality rights of her citizens.

The pact will further state that action against an aggressor nation, under the pact, could be either economic or military, because the United States will insist upon an agreement beforehand, because decisions relatives to an aggressor will have to be unanimous rather than by a majority.

Members of the American floating embassy headed by Davis pointed out that the proposed consultative pact would merely legalize and summarize what is already in effect by virtue of international treaties, and that it has already been utilized by the United States in the Japanese crisis.

Commenting on the pact, a spokesman for the French foreign office indicated France would be more satisfied if its terms were more sweeping.

"While France is pleased with the consultative pact," he said, "the question is whether it would go far enough."

HITLER PREPARES TO PUT POLICY BEFORE GENEVA

will act similarly, will henceforth serve as the German arms platform at Geneva.

Acting on these instructions, Nadolny will return to the seat of the international conference this afternoon authorized to inform the world powers that the statements of President Roosevelt and Chancellor Hitler make immediate action to reduce the world's war machinery mandatory.

Nadolny will maintain the same firm stand taken by Germany at Geneva since advent of the Hitler regime, but he will be in a position to reiterate the Chancellor's sweeping offer to dissolve the German army and destroy all Germany's arms if the other nations will likewise agree to sacrifice their military prowess on the altar of peace.

To Retain Nazi Troops.

While pledging Germany's support to the British and American plans, Nadolny, it was learned, will insist that retention of Germany's Nazi storm troopers is necessary to combat the menace of communism.

His instructions are sufficiently elastic, however, to prevent negotiations for reorganization of the German army itself.

In his conciliatory speech before the Reichstag, Hitler, in the opinion of the German press, fulfilled domestic expectations that he would make clear once and for all that Germany is determined not only to regain her self-respect but also to cooperate with the civilized world in eliminating forever the menace of war.

The localanzeiger stated:

"Germany has now attained a position in the world which only a few nations enjoy. The Reichstag demonstration as well as the unusual echo of the speech throughout the world have created a new basis for the negotiations at Geneva."

Headlining the speech "Desire for Peace and Self-respect," the Berliner Tageblatt stated:

"Now the world knows it is precisely Germany who is the first propagator of true disarmament and that Germany wants peaceful revision of the Versailles treaty. The world now faces important decision. The chancellor's speech is final warning."

"Germany has spoken," said the Deutches Allegemeine Zeitung. "May Geneva and the world now formulate an attitude toward the clear, dispassionate word coming from a truly unmilitaristic Germany."

The General impression here is that Germany has gone to the full limit of cooperation and collaboration in behalf of peace and that it now devolves upon the other powers and the disarmament conference to seize upon here initiative and achieve definite results.

Third Arrest In Kidnaping Is Forecast

(International News Service)

BARNSTABLE, Mass. May 18—As the Barnstable county grand jury today went down the home stretch in its investigation of the kidnaping and return of Margaret "Peggy" McMath, officials hinted of a third arrest in the case.

Kenneth Buck, charged with being the kidnaper, and his brother, Coril, charged with "contacting" the McMath family, are under arrest.

The third man, investigators said who lives in Harwichport, visited the kidnaped child in her "dungeon" under a vacant house, and furnished some of the coverings for Peggy's bed. Participant in the kidnaping or not, the Harwwichport man was said to have failed to report his knowledge of Peggy's whereabouts and thus became a possible accessory.

As the special grand jury entered its final session, announcement came that Walter F. Cahoon friend and neighbor of Kenneth Buck, would not be called before the jury.

Tax Program Is Outlined

(BULLETIN)

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, May 18.—Four alternative tax programs were laid before congress today by Budget Director Lewis W. Douglas to provide the $220,000,000 necessary to carry the annual charges on President Roosevelt's $3,300,000,000 public works program.

The four proposals were:

1—Increase the normal rates on incomes from 4 to 6 per cent on the first $4,000, and from 8 to 10 per cent on the next $4,000, to raise $46,000,000; make corporation dividends subject to normal tax, to raise $83,000,000; impose an additional ¾ of one per cent on gasoline to raise $92,000,000—total $221,000,000.

conclusion that in proposing the abolition of offensive war weapons, a new non-aggression pact, and "consultation" with other powers in the event of hostilities, President Roosevelt has made a complete about-face in American foreign policy.

Such, the White House hastened to explain today, is not the case. To clarify the American position, the following statement was made:

"There is no obligation on the United States except in the following three possibilities.

Obligations of United States

"1. If every other nation agrees to eliminate weapons of offensive warfare the United States will do the same.

"2. If during the disarmament period every other nation agrees not to invade its neighbors subject to existing treaty rights, the United States will do the same thing.

"3. If there is violation of any such agreement or agreements, the United States would consult with other nations. This is no change from long-standing and existing policy.

"Determination of any action following consultation referred to would, of course, be fully open to determination by the United States at that time. That does not mean the United States will in company with other nations meet to determine this policy. The policy will be determined right here in Washington by officials in the light of events and circumstances prevailing at the time."

In other words, the United States would agree to consult with other powers in a given set of circumstances, but there is no commitment to abandon neutrality, to impose sanctions, or to undertake to define the aggressor in an international conflict.

The statement was designed to reassure the United States senate that no historical departure was being made from the long-standing and traditional policy of the United States to judge for itself its action in the event of international conflict.

Guests to the number of 40 assembled about the large tables nicely decorated where a delicious spaghetti dinner was served at 7:30 o'clock.

Prizes were awarded those wearing the cleverest costumes and a feature that caused a riot of mirth was the "little boy and girl" skit put on by J. S. Meyers, who took the part of the boy, and his "girl friend" was W. Short.

The committee responsible for the complete success of the evening included Mr. Meyers, Mrs. Short, Miss Frances Wilson and Miss Martha Owens.

RAINBOW GIRLS HAVE INSTALLATION-DINNER

Impressive and spectacular was the installation of Rainbow Girls of New Castle Assembly No. 1, Wednesday evening in the Cathedral, with approximately 250 witnesses.

The occasion began most auspiciously with a beautifully appointed tureen dinner at 6:30 o'clock, followed by the assembly's first installation for this term. Those honored were the old and new corps of officers; Mrs. Carrie M. Criswell, past grand matron of the Order of Eastern Star of the State of Pennsylvania; Mrs. Onie Garman; officers and members of Miriam Chapter of Youngstown, O.; who were hostesses to the girls in October, and their worthy matron Mrs. Zola Fink; the worthy matrons of the three local chapters, Shenango, New Castle and Cathedral, O. E. S.

At tables decorated with spring flowers and candles, the guests were seated with Milton E. Vaughn pronouncing the invocation.

A short business session followed after which the ceremony of installation was exemplified. At the beginning of this service, came the close of the term for Ruth Jones who has served the Assembly in a most capable manner. Her work in the installation was done with distinction, as well as that of Doris Marvin, installing marshall. The evening also marked the beginning of the term for Eleanor Horner, whose sister Rebecca had the honor of installing her as worthy Advisor, a most unusual occurrance.

The rest of the work followed in regular order, the past worthy advisors, Evelyn Swanson, Rebecca Horner, Dorothy Young, Louise McCoy, and Gertrude Falls assisting through the evening.

Miss Ruth Drescher, soprano, accompanied by Katherine Nessle Allen at the piano, thrilled her audience with two beautiful numbers.

The gifted Michael Caruso, violinist, played two exquisite selections and Miss Marian Wilkinson, vocal soloist, and a member of the Rainbows, added to this splendid program of special music arranged by Mrs. Thelma Propst, with vocal numbers.

At the conclusion of the candle drill another installation passed into history.

NEED OF NEW HOMES

ONE needs but to look at figures given before the national conference on the revival of home building to recognize that the construction field offers a great opportunity as a factor in getting business back on its feet.

James S. Taylor, chief of the division of building and housing of the United States department of commerce, told the conference there is an actual shortage of 500,000 homes in the United States. These and other figures he gave, he said, were based on a national survey made by the department especially for the conference.

He estimated that by the end of the present year the home building industry will be about $3,000,000,000 behind unless new construction be undertaken. The department's survey revealed, he explained, that there are many quarters "unfit" for habitation in half of the 300 cities observed, many of which are being lived in temporarily only until the occupants can afford something better." It also was found, he said, that in other cities large number of families were "doubled up" because of financial exigency. He expressed the belief that as soon as conditions generally improved a rush to better quarters would take place.

"From a practical point of view," he concluded, "I believe a shortage definitely exists and that the shortage is to be measured by hundreds of thousands of homes, although beyond that there is, of course, a vast potential field for replacement of millions of our present dwellings which fall below decent minimum standards."

The construction business is one of the country's basic industries. A substantial increase in this would give employment to hundreds of thousands of workers in many different lines because of the large variety of materials that go into the building of homes.

Because of the big shortage of dwellings, it seems reasonable to expect that this industry will not falter long, once a definite business revival gets under way. The situation is an encouraging one from every standpoint.

MOTORS INVADE VENICE

No more shall be found isolation in any of the customary haunts of humanity. The last citadels are crumbling before the march of modern communications. For 1,400 years Venetians cherished their "splendid isolation." No enemy could reach the island of Venice by land. Navigation was difficult in the lagoon that separates it from the mainland. Venetians traversed it in flat-bottomed gondolas, and floated their houses on piles in the alluvial mud. A part of this isolation was lost when an iron railway viaduct was strung across the Laguna Venetia in 1846. But it was not until last month that the "Pearl of the Adriatic" was attached to Italy's mainland by any kind of a road. The new highway, of brick, stone and concrete is five and a half miles long, two and a half miles of it being a bridge over the lagoon proper.

Venetians had been arguing about a road to the mainland since 1898. Long-range guns made Venice's isolation valueless as a defense, but many still clung to the tradition about which the city's reputation had been built. It was not until 1931—and then only on direct order of Premier Mussolini—that work on a highway into Venice was begun.

Lovers may still go to Venice to float on the moonlit waters in silent gondolas propelled by the picturesque gondoleers. But the music of guitars and the dip of paddles will be accompanied by honking of horns, the purr of motors and the smell of exhaust gas of arriving and departing automobiles. A night in Venice can hardly be the same again

THE BIBLE STILL BEST SELLER

At the annual meeting of the American Bible Society it was announced that the distribution of this book for the last twelve months had fallen off to the extent of 1,678,000 from the preceding year, but that it was larger than in any year before 1925.

The report for 1932 showed that 8,067,156 Bibles and parts of Bibles had been circulated. All of which goes to show that the Bible continues to hold its unique eminence as the best seller of any book in the world. It is true that large numbers of the volume have been distributed free of cost; but, even deducting these from the total, we find that it still tops the sale of any other printed work.

It is further reported that the total number of languages, including dialects, in which translation of the Bible, or sections of it, has now been completed, now have reached 936. The total distribution since the Society was organized has passed 246,000,000. This is an amazing accomplishment, all the more so when we remember that this is only one organization engaged in that kind of work. If it were possible to get the grand total, it would probably seem almost unbelievable. We hear from time to time of the decay of religion, but these figures do not incate any serious lack of interest in spiritual matters.

PERHAPS AN IMPERFECT INTELLIGENCE TEST

How can one grade states by brains? The American Eugenics Society has attempted to do so, with surprising results. Many will not be disposed to accept the figures literally; there must be a good deal of guessing in them. New England will doubtless be gratified to learn that five of her six are among the first fourteen. But how about Kansas, which is ranked thirty-sixth?

And does California really lead Massachusetts or Oregon Connecticut. We are not told what place is given to Pennsylvania or New York, though one would naturally suppose it to be high in both cases. But it is permissible to doubt if such delicate questions as these can be settled by questionnaires.

EXERCISE WITH THE HOE

A garden authority remarks that people would not have to put so much water on their gardens if they would exercise the hoe more vigorously. He says that the most important thing in raising a garden is to keep the earth loose around the plants, so that the moisture can get to the roots, and not be dried on the surface by the warm sun.

This sounds like good philosophy. You never see good healthy plants growing in soil that looks baked into a hard surface. Frequent cultivating will keep the weeds from getting a start.

The trouble with these foreign statesmen pouring into Washington for presidential conferences is that they don't bring their senates with them.

SOMETHING THAT MEN DON'T KNOW

Any man can get the dinner—after a fashion.

He can cook a steak and have it done to a turn.

He can make the coffee and have it just right.

He can make gravy that people will praise.

He can bake the potatoes beautifully.

He can cook the asparagus, the peas, the string beans without burning them.

All these things, taken separately he can do perfectly—just as well as any woman.

Trouble is, without a great fund of experience, he can't do them all at the same time.

When he tries, he starts with enormous confidence. This is an easy thing to do, says he. Any man is a better cook than any woman. All the best cooks in the world were man. Men invented all the best things in the kitchen. Woman hasn't contributed a single thing to domestic science in all her years of experience.....You know how a man runs on his moments of pride ....But while the meat is cooking the beans burn. When the steak is ready, the potatoes aren't. After everything is ready to eat, he sees that the table isn't quite set and he has forgotten to put the dinner dishes on top of the oven to heat... Everything is right, after a fashion, but everything is also just a little wrong.

He hasn't mastered the final touch, which is "timing" which is having everything ready at exactly the right instant.

He started joyously, he ends "in a state." And his head is down and his pride is bruised....Poor devil!

The trick of achievement is in having things come to perfection at the proper time....In cooking. In a football game. In a prize ring. In a book. In a business deal. In gardening. In making a speech. In assembling a costume. In personal relations.....That's what women know. That's what men must learn ....And that's why women smile when they hear men talk about how easy it would be for them to run a house.

REAL FRIENDSHIP RARE

Many of those whom you consider friends are not so interested in you.

And you yourself are not so truly friendly as you appear.

You like the society of people who do not make demands on you.

As soon as you must sacrifice money, time or effort, friendly feeling dwindles and you are lukewarm.

To help out in a financial struggle is unthinkable to you.

Whether you can afford to is not the question. You won't do it.

Knowing just how shallow is the degree of friendship you give, how can you expect that any one of several persons will stick to you in all sorts of adversity?

Most friendly persons can fill the role pretty well unless the demands become irksome.

Everyone has fair weather friends—companions as long as things run smoothly—but you get no better than you are willing to give.

You get what you put in, in friendship as in everything else.

Don't have too much faith in protestations of friendship.

You may be sure that your friend would do no more for you than you would do for him—and how far would you go to help a friend?

Just Folks

By EDGAR A. GUEST

A SIMPLE SUPPER

Last night we had for supper pork
and beans and bread and tea,
And I did some over-eating, which is rather strange for me,
For the beans were cooked by mother,
and since first she was a bride,
I've always like to see her with the teapot at her side.

I forgot the spastic something that has troubled me for years.
And the nervous indigestion, with its multitude of fears.
I forgot the doctor's orders to beware of this and that,
And remember, rather strangely, our first Fourteenth avenue flat.

We were young and brave and struggling and had debts we hoped to pay,
With the future all before us, and we supped the self-same way.
And we planned and dreamed and wondered and with high hope sat us down
To tea and bread and butter and to beans molasses brown.

Well, we're back once more to planning and to dreaming as of old.
We are looking to the future and some rainbow's pot of gold.
And so filled with true contentment did that mealtime seem to be
That, against the doctor's orders, I took three good cups of tea.

Bible Thought For Today

For as the earth bringeth forth her bud, and as the garden causeth the things that are sown in it to spring forth; so the Lord God will cause righteousness and praise to spring forth before all the nations. —Isaiah 61:11.

Although there was very little opportunity for loose living in his backwoods parish, the preacher delivered a fiery sermon on such evil doers and ended with a fervent prayer that they be saved from the consequences. The congregation having departed, a shabby, little elderly woman approached the preacher. "That was a lovely prayer you made, pastor," she said in a quavering voice, "but next Sunday I wish you would pray for my floating kidney." The preacher stood aghast. "Pray for your floating kidney," he gasped, "why, what do you mean?—I never heard of such a thing!" A shade of disappointment spread over the elderly lady's face. "I thought," she said, her lips trembling, "I thought that if you could pray for loose livers you could pray for floating kidneys too."

For the past 10 years a doctor could only give a person one prescription in 10 days, for not more than one pint of whisky. The amount of medicinal whisky—red drinking likker—is only a few hundred million gallons and will not last long. This is also the result of constant wet and dry bickering

Making moonshine whiskey was always considered, in certain outlying districts of the south, as a prerogative that superseded the constitution and all of its amendments. Even before the enactment of the 18th amendment, revenue officers had great difficulty in preventing the manufacture of whiskey without the payment of a tax as prescribed by law. As a result of the persistency of the revenue officers and the pertinacity of the moonshiners, many an officer lost his life in attempting to locate an illicit still and arrest the moonshiner. An officer new to one of these localities was on the way to a still which his olfactory nerve gave him reason to believe was located nearby. Following a trail up a winding mountain, he came upon a boy riding a mule. "Boy," he said, "have you seen any stills around these parts?" The boy swung slowly off his mule. "Yaas sur," he replied. "Would you like to earn a dollar?" asked the officer. The boy looked about him, then in a half whisper again replied, "Yaas suh." "All right," ordered the officer, 'lead on.' The boy stood still. "Well, what are you waiting for?" asked the officer impatiently. "Yuh bettah give me th' dollah now," said the boy, eyeing the officer with suspicion. "I'll give you the dollar when I get back," snapped the officer. The boy leaned against his mule and dug his big toe into the earth. "Yuh ain't comin' back," he said differently.

Because he is not saddled with detailed responsibilities, he is in better position to see that his passengers are contented, that everything about the ship is being done properly. His officers are charged with detailed duties. He hold them responsible.

A business man should organize his business so that he, too, can look at his business as a whole. Too many are kept from seeing what they ought to see by being blinded by details that should be the responsibility of subordinates. When the heart is pulsing with

We long for beauty and love and

With a hunger and thirst un-

We toil for fame and we grasp at

Our souls are attuned in the

All heaven and earth seem our

We need so little when life is done
And the spirit soars from its

From our careless fingers, one by one
Droy the useless treasures we shall

The glitter of gold, the hoarded heap
Of prizes and praises so hardly

We will barter them all for a dream-

Germany's Burning Of Books Held Blow To National Spirit

Pride In Culture Reversed By Policy Of Hitler Regime, As Seen By American Public, Which Emphasizes Futility Of Suppression

Pride of Germany in its culture and its many contributions to the thought of the world are believed by the American public to have suffered a drastic reversal in the burning by the Hitler regime of books which do not conform to the Fascist ideas. It is conceded that some priceless books have fed the flames, but the suppression of thought is declared to be among the futile things of all time. It is also pointed out that copies of such books as are valuable exist in other countries.

"Time was," recalls the SALT LAKE DESERET NEWS, "when students of chemistry, philology, anthropology, and psychology felt their educations not complete until they had mastered German and read the works of the great minds of that country in the original. They turn away from the indecency with a feeling of horror. The silly gesture of the Nazi party recalls the acts of the Spanish conquistadores when they came upon the writings of the Mayas in Mexico and Central America, and feeling them to be the records of a devil-ridden people, burned them in the public places, and destroyed records of incalculable worth. Of course no such damage results from this infantile celebration, for the books have all been scattered abroad and find their places in the libraries of the world."

"A people distinguished among all its neighbors for its breadth of knowledge and range of intellectual interest," observes the PROVIDENCE JOURNAL, "suddenly writes itself down as not merely national in its self-limitation, but actually provincial." That paper adds that "the best friends of Hitler at home and abroad must look on with mingled amazement and distress." The SPRINGFIELD (MASS.) REPUBLICAN feels that "if the Nazi censors had limited themselves to a moral house cleaning, they would have got applause abroad as well as at home," but that "their absorption in their own fanatical doctrines, to which liberalism of any sort is anathema, makes their index expurgatorius grotesque."

"The German nation," according to the COLUMBIA (S. C.) STATE, "is based on books, mortised and tenoned in books, lives in and by books, more than any other people in history." That paper suggests that "one would have supposed they would reverence their books, honor the very word, 'book,' and set up Books in their agoras to worship instead of the borrowed Norse gods." The State quotes Milton in the "last word" on the subject: "A good book is the precious life-blood of a master-spirit, embalmed and treasured up on purpose to a life beyond life. As good almost kill a man as kill a good book; who kills a man kills a reasonable creature, God's image; but he who destroys a good book kills reason itself." The Columbia paper states that many of the burned books were immortal, and "some of them cannot be replaced." It comments on history: "As the ancient world never retrieved the loss of the library of Alexandria, it is quite possible that Germans may never entirely recapture what they have lost in the furious destruction of Books, the very things in which the German spirit lives, through which it works its will upon the world, and achieves its own fame."

As to volumes on present conditions, the NEW YORK TIMES points out: "Many books have been written since the armistice to show that German frightfulness was a hideous slander. The real German spirit expresses itself in industry, thrift, order, peace, and a passionate love for art, science and high thinking. These protests have now been cast into the flames. Every year that passes has seen more and more books about Germany written in a spirit of growing friendship by Americans, Englishmen, Frenchmen and other former opponents of Germany or neutrals. The new Germany of the last three months has been destroying them."

"The human race has progressed," declares the FORT WORTH STAR-TELEGRAM, "for beyond even a semblance of successful repression of tastes. The desire for knowledge is irresistible. People have awakened to an omniverous appetite for literary productions. There are persons who will read any offering of any writer. For every book burned there will be a hundred phoenixes arise from the ashes, and each of the hundred will do more harm to the plans and aspirations of the Book Burner than would have come from those at hand when the order to burn was issued. It is a moot question whether the proper attitude toward Hitler is to laugh at his egotism or pity his lack of judgment."

"Books are widely circulated and the destruction of a few copies in Berlin will not have serious or widespread consequences," says the LINCOLN STATE JOURNAL, while the BIRMINGHAM AGE-HERALD suggests that among the writers of the condemned books are authors who "are well known to American readers, and they can determine for themselves just how poisonous these men are." The DAYTON DAILY NEWS views all such destructions as resulting from a "combination of ignorance with zeal," and notes a "resurgence of the tribal temper," while the SIOUX FALLS DAILY ARGUS-LEADER holds that the German authorities "encourage ignorance instead of knowledge," and the MERIDIAN STAR predicts the downfall of the present German leadership.

This "complete reversal of educational principles" is "astounding" to the INDIANAPOLIS STAR, while the CINCINNATI TIMES-STAR sees prospects of a German "headache", and "tragedy" is the verdict of the BALTIMORE SUN. The WASHINGTON EVENING STAR concludes: "The whole episode is incredible and incomprehensible. It leaves civilized mankind amused and amazed."

Pennsylvania League Of Women Voters Take Action Against "Sweatshops"

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, May 18.—Possible work regulations as a means of eradicating "sweatshop" evils in the state were to be considered today by the Pennsylvania League of Women Voters, closing a two-day convention here.

The child labor question is the outstanding item on a program of a half dozen problems to be discussed at the concluding session.

Other matters include efforts toward improved juvenile court and probation procedure; the providing of more schooling for graduates unable to obtain employment; doing away with "slums" in large cities.

A resolution of protest against "sweatshop" conditions was adopted late yesterday. A vote of favor for unemployment insurance and old age pensions under state supervision also was cast.

Taking up each phase separately, the league, by vote, approved shorter hours and prohibition of night work for women in industry and minimum fair wages. It also demanded sufficient state surveillance as protection for women and children in employment.

Sue Harvard To Sing Tonight

Homecoming Concert Will Be Real Triumph For New Castle Singer

Every element seems to be working towards the success of the Sue Harvard concert tonight in the First Presbyterian church. The Hershey Auxiliary, sponsoring body of the concert, has met with success in the sale of tickets, the weather is well nigh perfect and the concert tonight should be a splendid success.

Early today decorators put the flowers and palms in place and Miss Harvard's voice tonight will float out over a bower of blooms. For herself she is in good voice, is ready to present one of the best concerts of her career and is eagerly awaiting eight o'clock the time for the opening number.

Since coming to New Castle several days ago she has denied herself to her friends, preferring to rest and conserve her energy for tonight's concert.

She will be accompanied by Emily Harford Avery and an additional feature will be the presence of Thomas H. Webber, Jr., at the organ. Mr. Webber will also play several solo numbers.

MONSTER ENGINE, BOUND FOR FAIR, GOES THRU CITY

Giant Freight Locomotive On Way To Chicago; Largest Seen Here

Rolling slowly along toward Chicago, where next Saturday it goes on public exhibition at the Century of Progress Exposition, one of America's largest freight locomotives—temporarily borrowed from the Delaware & Hudson railroad—passed thru New Castle over the Pennsylvania lines shortly after 2 o'clock this afternoon.

The giant engine's arrival here brought curious folk scurrying to the tracks, for it was more of a monster iron horse than any locomotive which has operated over local Pennsy rails before.

Coming from Erie at a 30-mile-an-hour speed, the locomotive proceeded under "special movement" orders with a special E. & A. division crew at the throttle. It continued to Homewood Junction from here, and then headed for Chicago.

Engineman H. G. Brownlee and Fireman H. G. Lungren, both of Erie, were aboard, as was Assistant Road Foreman of Engines Edward M. Fisher.

Officials here said the monster was chosen as a representative of American freight locomotives for public exhibition at the fair. It will stand by "The Royal Scot," famous British train, and other symbols of modern rail transportation.

The stack of the engine is over 15 feet high.

It was detoured over the Pennsy thru here because shorter routes could not be traversed because of its width and length. Its trip began at Wilkes Barre.

Change Of Venue Sought By State In Iowa Trials

(International News Service)

LE MARS, Iowa, May 18.—An unique spectacle—a spectacle which probably better than anything else discloses the present temper of normally quiet, peaceful, law-abiding rural Iowa—was displayed in district court here today.

County Attorney E. P. Murray, charged with prosecuting the farmers who abducted District Judge Charles Bradley from his bench and attempted to hang him because he refused to stop farm foreclosures, began arguments for a change of venue for trial of the cases.

Only once before in the history of Iowa has the state found it expedient to ask a change of venue for trial of a criminal case For decades rural Iowa has been the right hand of its law enforcement officers. The culprit, rather than the state, has always sought trial away from the scene of the crime—away from the possible prejudice of local opinion.

World War Vets Home From Capital

Local Delegation Back From Conference On Bonus Question At Washington

Commander David Llewellyn of the World War Veterans of Lawrence County, and the other delegates to the bonus convention, held this week in Washington, D. C. have returned to their homes here.

According to Llewellyn, every veteran arriving in Washington was well cared for at Camp Hunt. Representatives of the veterans report that there were some thousands of veterans in Washington and that prospects look good for receiving their bonus.

The local delegates called on Congressman J. Howard Swick who stated that he has signed a petition favoring payment of the bonus.

Reports of the convention will be made at a meeting of the World War Veterans in their headquarters 106 East Washington street, Monday evening.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE— WITHOUT CALOMEL
And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks punk, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine.

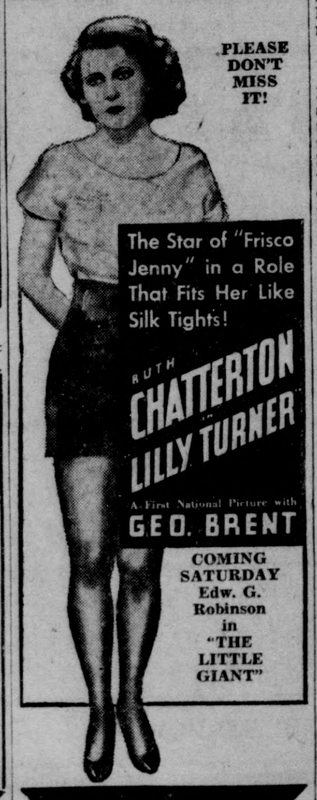

For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily.

If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul, skin often breaks out in blemishes. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes those good, old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely.

But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Resent a substitute. 25c at all stores. © 1931 C. M. Co.

Royal Democrats

Apparently Belgium is a country where royalty is not surrounded by the high fence of social distinction, if one may judge by this picture. Princess Astrid, wife of the heir-apparent, Prince Leopold, is pictured with her daughter, Princess Charlotte, as they stood on the curb amid a crowd that watched a Brussels parade in honor of her father-in-law, King Albert, on the occasion of his birthday.

RELIEF BOARD DELAYS MOVE TO NEW OFFICE

Opening of a new downtown headquarters for the Lawrence County Emergency Relief board has been delayed until early next week, Dr. G. S. Bennett, board chairman, announced today.

Two second floor rooms in the new Woods building, at Washington and Mill, have been donated by the building owners for use by the relief staff. An increase in relief activities, particularly the registration of "forest army" men, has necessitated larger rooms.

A small clerical staff will assist Dr. Bennett in administrating the office.

Soviets In Accord With Views Given Out By Roosevelt

(International News Service)

MOSCOW, May 18.—"The Soviet government is wholly in sympathy with the views expressed by President Roosevelt in his disarmament appeal to the world, International News Service was informed in official quarters Wednesday.

"These views", it was added, "coincide definitely with the views iterated and reiterated by Maxim Litvinoff, commissar for foreign affairs, at Geneva and elsewhere."

Whole-hearted support of the Roosevelt program is therefore assured.

The foreign office, however, did not consider President Roosevelt's action in addressing his appeal direct to Moscow as in any way embodying recognition of the Soviet government.

Henry Ford
Dearborn, Mich.

May 15, 1933

Time and again I am told—by my own organization and by others—that I penalize myself by quality.

Friendly critics protest our putting into the Ford V-8 what they call "twenty-year steel." They say such quality is not necessary; the public does not expect it; and that the public does not know the difference anyway.

But I know the difference.

I know that the car a man sees is not the car he drives—he drives the car which the engineer sees. The car which is seen, comprises beauty of design, color and attractive accessories,—all desirable, of course. The best evidence that we think so is that they are all found on the Ford V-8.

But these are not the car. The car proper, which is the basis of all the rest, is the type of engine and its reliability; the structure of chassis and body, ruggedly durable; the long thought and experiment given to safety factors; the steady development of comfort, convenience and economy. These make the car.

A car can be built that will last two or three years. But we have never built one. We want the basic material of our car to be as dependable the day it is discarded as the day it is bought. Ford cars built 15 years ago are still on the road. It costs more to build a durable car—but two items we do not skimp are cost and conscience. A great many things could "get by"—the public would never know the difference. But we would know.

The new Ford V-8 is a car that I endorse without any hesitancy. I know what is in it. I trust our whole thirty years' reputation with it. It is even better than our previous V-8. It is larger, more rugged and mechanically a better job all round.

I readily say this in an advertisement because I know the car will back it up.

Ray Of Light Will Be Used To Open Fair

Ray Of Light That Has Been Since 1893 Reaching Earth To Be Converted

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, May 18.—Back in 1893 when Chicago was having a world fair, a ray of light left the star arcturus way up in the heavens some 240,000,000,000,000 miles from here and started toward the earth.

Ever since then that ray of light has been on its earthward journey, traveling about 186,000 miles per second.

It hasn't reached the earth yet, but it will on May 27.

When that ray arrives, it will be met by a man-made apparatus invented long after the journey began. The ray will be turned into electrical energy by this apparatus —known as the "electric eye."

Wired To Chicago.

The energy will be wired to Chicago—by a method not in existence in 1893—to turn on a giant searchlight which will illuminate the tower of the science building at the 1933 Chicago world fair.

And then the fair will be open officially.

Dr. Frank J. Jordan, head of the Allegheny observatory in Pittsburgh, told these plans today.

Allegheny observatory is one of four observatories which is to conduct the experiment. The others are Harvard, Yerkes and the University of Illinois. All four will work simultaneously.

School Hooky Now Termed 'Lost Art'

Few Huck Finns In Classrooms, Message Says; Studies Well Liked

"Yes, it's hooky time in America," declares a message of the Pennsylvania State Education Association, entitled "Hooky—a Lost Art", but adds that "Huck Finn, were he here, would find it incomprehensibly hard to locate a companion for a midweek expedition to the river or over the hills."

The school pamphlet, asserting that Pennsylvania school children are attending more days per year, more days per child and more years before dropping out, says, "the old boyish custom of awarding one's self a day off from classes has fallen into relative disuse."

"It's not that boys have changed that much," the bulletin goes on, "it's just that they've less to run away from. They play hooky less because there's not so much to make them want to. They leave Saturday's delightful occupations to the weekly holiday itself, because the temptations of freedom are augmented far less than of yore by schoolroom boredom."

New Castle schools, like others, have appreciated the significance of the more regular attendance. Regular attendance and resultant consecutive instruction means better scholarship, it creates sustained interest and avoids the discouragement inevitable when classroom work has been missed.

SPRING FEVER

may not put you in bed

. . . but if you feel listless, tired, run-down, appetite dull, with a weak let-down feeling — perhaps nervous and worn out—why not "snap out" of this condition? Tone up your appetite, increase those red-blood-cells, and get in step with those who put zip and pep into everything they do—the best way to be happy and cheerful.

There is a good old medicine, S.S.S.—tested both by time and by scientific research, which in addition to being a valuable general tonic, has been found to be remarkably efficient in restoring to the blood the normal amount of red-blood-cells and their hemo-glo-bin.

. . . if you suspect an organic disease, consult a physician. S.S.S. is not a "cure-all" BUT for a pimply skin and that tired, worn-out, let-down feeling — "spring fever" just try S.S.S. and see how you awake after a night's sound sleep feeling fresh and fine, — and see how you eat with restored appetite . . . see how your skin clears up.

Instead of slowing down in the early afternoon, you should possess ample energy to carry on thru the day and evening hours. S.S.S. is a particularly valuable tonic in the Spring of the year. It is liquid of course . . . never sold in tablet form.

. . . as a word of caution to the millions who know S.S.S. and its benefits from personal experiences, we suggest that you do not permit anyone to switch you to any of the hundreds of "just as good as S.S.S." substitutes. Remember that successful products are always imitated, but it seldom pays to buy imitations —insist upon S.S.S. At all good drug stores.

Big Picnic At Camp Saturday

Picnic Planned For Girls Expecting To Attend Camp East Brook This Summer

Saturday will be a big day at Camp East Brook, when all girls who expect to camp at the Y. W. C. A. resort this summer will gather for a picnic.

It will not only be a grand preliminary to the camp season and a get-acquainted party deluxe, but a reunion for many of the girls, and counselors.

Hours of 3 to 8 p. m. will be observed. The girls will bring their own lunches.

The program? Games, camp songs, extemporaneous frolicking, and a general jolly old time.

Girls who have no way of getting to the camp are asked to call the Y. W. C. A. not later than Friday.

People Asked To Identify Machines

Sewing Machines Used In Red Cross Sewing Are Available To Owners

While the Red Cross sewing program was in progress here last winter, a great number of people donated machines for the use of the various sewing units. The Red Cross is desirous of returning these machines to their owners now, but in some cases, there are no names on the machines.

Persons who donated machines for sewing use are asked to communicate with the Lawrence County Chapter, so that their machines may be identified and returned to them.

It is stated that there are approximately 15 machines at the Administration Building of the New Castle schools, most of which do not have any identifying marks on them.

Eight Heavily Armed Detectives Hunt For Maug And Turpack

REPORTED SEEN NEAR PITTSBURGH

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, May 18.—Eight heavily armed county detective squads and police scout cars today combed two widely separated sections of Allegheny county in futile efforts to find clues to the whereabouts of John Maug and Edward Turpack, fugitive Western Pennsylvania lifers, after the gunmen had been reported seen.

Information that men answering the description of the two desperadoes had been seen in Mufflin township and Point Breeze sent police and detectives to these areas to conduct searches. They reported no trace of the men could be found.

One of the tips reaching county detectives reported the men had established headquarters in Mifflin township, where they recently escaped after police trapped them in an abandoned stone quarry.

Advertising Is Most Effective Economic Move

Nothing Like Newspaper Ads To Restore Confidence To American Public

URGE BANKERS TO START ADVERTISING

(International News Service)

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., May 18.—Newspaper advertising today was endorsed as the most effective medium through which public confidence can be regained for banks, said G. Fred Berger, treasurer of the Norristown-Penn Trust company of Norristown, in an address before the 39th annual convention of the Pennsylvania Bankers' association.

"The public still reads newspapers and more than ever is the public interested in banking," Berger pointed out, urging bankers to advertise cooperatively through their clearing house and other associations.

Berger said abolition of the present 48 state banking systems for a uniform federalized system would eliminate competitive granting of banking charters. This, he said, would be beneficial to banking as a whole.

White Gives Outline Of Proposal Of City For Taking Over Park

City Solicitor R. M. White stated today that he has prepared an ordinance to be introduced by some member of city council Friday which, if adopted, will authorize the city to enter into a contract with the Pennsylvania Power company for the city's acquisition of Cascade Park under a deed of trust plan. The contract may not be drafted completely for Friday's session. However, it is probable that the proposed contract will be discussed.

White today provided for publication an outline of the contract he proposes to present to members of council.

In brief, it provides:

1—Acquisition of Cascade Park under a deed of trust plan.

2—It would provide that there be a board of managers for the supervision of the park.

3—The board would set up a system of accounts so the expense shall never exceed the income.

4—The accounts shall be open to the company, city or any citizen, at all times.

5—If there is ever any expense to the city, the city or the company can do one of three things:

(a) Require the board of managers to be changed.

b) Change the board of trustees (the Recreation board).

(c) The trustees be made to reconvey the property back to the company.

6—The board of managers would have power to maintain and keep the park in repair.

7—There shall be no political interference and the park shall always be for the use of the citizens and the public.

8—The park shall be maintained as a part of the public park system.

9—The board of managers can tear down any of the old buildings and change any road. (Relative to the foregoing White said the contract would contain a provision that before this is done, written consent of the company must be had.)

10—Before the park is taken over, the city will make an appraisal of the lands and buildings and that shall be approved by the company.

11—That whenever any buildings are removed the board shall see that the appraised value of the property is not decreased and will get a statement from the company to that effect. (This will prevent damage payments to the company, White explained.)

12—The board may procure liability and other insurance if it so desires.

13—If at the end of the year there is any profits in the boards possession they shall be applied to the taxes for the year of 1934. (The company will pay the taxes for 1933, White explained).

14—If there is a profit after the taxes are paid the money will go to the city parking system and at the end of the year the trustees will turn the property back to the company."

White explained that the city cannot lease the park and make permanent improvements because it is outside the city. Under the deed of trust plan, it would guarantee the city absolutely against any expense and the city would not have to spend one cent, White explained.

Members of city council requested that the proposed contract be published today. However, the solicitor informed the council that there are so many questions involved he could not possibly draft the contract completely today. However, he outlined the contract to a News representative.

Stanley Treser and his colleagues also requested that the cost to the city for electric light be printed. He said that the entire cost to the city for the year for lighting would not be over $650.00. He said that under the proposed plans each man operating a concession at the park would have to pay his own light bill.

Illinois Farmer Is Made Happy By Government Loan

First Loan Granted Under Emergency Mortgage Act Will Benefit Farmer

(International News Service)

PLEASANT PLAINS, Ill., May 18—Things appeared a lot brighter today on the 700 acre farm of Elijah Purvines here.

Purvines whistled a tune as he directed the daily routine of spring work in the fields, stopping now and then to talk with an inquisitive neighbor dropping by to ask how it feels "to get out from under."

Purvines, who for 30 years or more has operated his Sangamon county farm here in the neighborhood of Abraham Lincoln's old homesite, has been granted the first loan under President Roosevelt's emergency farm mortgage act.

"Sure it's a big relief" explained the veteran farmer. "I can go ahead now and pay by debts off, spend a little for improvements and then watch me make things hum."

PRESIDENT MOVES TO BOOST EMPLOYMENT

Roosevelt Asks Power To Start Works Program

President Seeks Authority For Launching Of $3,300,000,000 Work Project

ADDITIONAL MONEY WILL BE NEEDED

Would Create Jobs For Additional Thousands Thruout Country

By WILLIAM S. NEAL
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, May 18—President Roosevelt Wednesday asked Congress for legislation which will permit the launching of a $3,300,000,000 public works program, and at the same time will allow industry, under government supervision, to enter into agreements designed to prevent unfair competition and disastrous overproduction.

The president reported in a special message that at least $220,000,000 of additional revenue would be needed to undertake the public works program.

No Plan To Raise Money

He did not make specific recommendations as to how this money should be raised, leaving it to the discretion of Congress, but he did say that provisions should be made for the reduction or elimination of such additional taxes as fast as business improves, or whenever repeal of the 18th amendment permits a restoration of prohibition revenue laws.

In asking that industry be empowered to organize within itself, the president contemplates modification of the anti-trust laws. He made clear, however, they should be retained basically and that the government supervision of private combinations be vigorously maintained.

Through enactment of the public works-industry partnership bill, the president told Congress he hoped to "obtain wide re-employment, to shorten the working week, to pay a decent wage for the shorter week and to prevent unfair competition and disastrous overproductions."

Asks For Machinery

In asking for the necessary machinery for an industrial cooperative movement, the president said:

"One of the great restrictions upon such cooperative efforts up to this time has been our anti-trust laws. They were properly designed as the means to cure the great evils of monopolistic price-fixing. They should certainly be retained as a permanent assurance that the old evils of unfair competition shall never return.

"But the public interest will be served if, with the authority and under the guidance of government, private industries are permitted to make agreements and codes insuring fair competition. However, it is necessary, if we thus limit the operation of anti-trust laws of their original purpose to provide a rigorous licensing power in order to meet rare cases of non-cooperation and abuse. Such a safeguard is indispensible.

Would Raise Money

As for raising the $3,300,000,000 for public works, Mr. Roosevelt said, in part:

"Careful estimates indicate that at least $220,000,000 of additional revenue will be required to service the contemplated borrowings of the government. This will of necessity involve some form or forms of new taxation. A number of suggestions have been made as to the nature of these taxes. I do not make a specific recommendation at this time, but I hope that the committee on ways and means will make a careful study of revenue plans and be prepared by the beginning of the coming week to propose the taxes which they judge best adapted to meet the present needs and which will at the same time be least burdensome to our people. At the end of that time, if no decision has been reached or if the means proposed do not seem to sufficiently adequate, or certain it is my intention to transmit to the Congress my own recommendations in the matter.

Need Employment

"The taxes to be imposed are for the purpose of providing re-employment for our citizens. Provision should be made for their reduction of elimination.

"1—As fast as increasing revenues from improving business become available to replace them:

"2—Whenever the repeal of the 18th amendment now pending before the states shall have been ratified and the repeal of the Volstead act effected. The pre-prohibition revenue laws would then automatically go into effect and yield enough wholly to eliminate these temporary re-employment taxes."

Ohio Coal Men Ask Roosevelt To Lend Help

Bituminous Coal Industry In Southern Ohio At Standstill Today

(International News Service)

COLUMBUS, O., May 18.—Deadlocked by the failure of coal operators and miners to reach a satisfactory wage scale agreement southern Ohio's bituminous coal industry was temporarily shut down today while officials of the United Mine Workers in Ohio rushed a plea for intervention to President Roosevelt.

Lockup of the Hocking, Pomeroy and Crooksville coal fields was announced following the collapse of a last minute conference here yesterday before the expiration of Governor George White's 10-point armistice.

The downfall of negotiations was brought about by the adamant stand of miners and union officials against a wage reduction.

Today's mine-closing order affects approximately 50 mines in the Hocking, Pomeroy and Crooksville fields. About 6,700 miners are tentatively thrown out of work by the order.

A shut-down is also scheduled in the Tuscarawas field, affecting 1,500 more miners and 25 more mines, at the end of the week.

Would Abolish Poor Directors

Strong Opposition To Plan In Westmoreland County

GREENSBURG, Pa., May 18.—Considerable opposition was expressed here and throughout Westmoreland county today to the reported plan of the Westmorland county emergency relief board to abolish the jobs of three directors of the poor and centralize relief work here.

The centralization plan, calling for a headquarters personnel of 50 and a field staff of 45, was reported adopted at a secret meeting of the board. Robert Stroud, state field representative of the state emergency relief board, was credited with sponsoring the plan.

Opponents of the movement claim operating costs would be more than $150,000 annually whereas the present system costs but $10,000, including the salaries of the three poor directors whose jobs are to be eliminated.

Miss Doyle, the most seriously hurt, is asking $30,000, and Miss Balsinger, who spent 13 weeks in the Uniontown hospital, seeks the smaller amount.

Charge Washington County Sheriff Is Terrorizing Miners

Communists Protest Actions Of Sheriff Seaman And Legion In Illegal Raid

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Pa., May 18.—Charges that the American Legion, the United Mine Workers of America and Sheriff J. A. Seaman "terrorized" communist miners in Washington county were forwarded today to Governor Gifford Pinchot by the unemployed council of Export, Pa.

Another resolution denouncing the sheriff was sent to him personally. He termed the allegations "frivolous and laughable."

In the complaint to the governor, the miners alleged the constitutional rights of citizens were being abridged, illegal raids were being conducted on homes and flour given by the Red Cross for relief was being stolen.

Part-Time Nursing Service Available

Red Cross Provides Nursing Service At Nominal Cost To All

Many New Castle people are unaware of the fact that the Red Cross provides part-time nursing service for persons who are unable to afford the service of a full-time nurse, Chapter officials have found.

The nursing service of the Lawrence County Chapter is available to every person in the district, and the Chapter nurse may be consulted for advise on health and nursing problems, for the giving of baths, and other care, for which a full-time nurse is necessary.

A small charge is made for this service where those receiving such aid are able to pay, but is furnished free to those who are unable to pay.

Endorse Move To Enter Politics

McBride Post Asks That Political Barriers Of V. F. W. Be Removed

MEMORIAL DAY PLANS ARE MADE

Endorsement of resolutions, prepared by the Standing Stone Post, No. 1754, Veterans of Foreign Wars, of Huntingdon, Pa., asking that the political barriers of the Veterans of Foreign Wars be swept aside and that the Veterans of Foreign Wars, both state and national departments, organize and affiliate with other service organizations to form a united political front, was made by the Harry L. McBride Post, V. F. W., at its meeting last evening in the Legion Home.

It is charged that Public Act No. 2, of the 73rd Congress, entitled, "an act to maintain the credit of the United States government," is discriminatory to the disabled veterans of the past wars of the United States, in that the said legislations cause the veterans to bear 75 per cent of the national economes, and by the evacuation of hospitals, discontinuance of pensions, compensation and allowances, the said legislation has placed the burden of the care of the disabled veterans upon their respective communities, which in past history, has been recognized as the duty of the Federal government.

Memorial Services

The resolution, which has been passed by all V. F. W. posts in the district, makes it mandatory on the part of the national and state officers to assemble such other service organizations that are politically organized to determine a policy of action.

The post completed plans to attend memorial services to be held in the Calvary Presbyterian church, Sunday morning, May 21. Those participating will assemble at the Legion Home at 10 o'clock next Sunday morning for this purpose.

Report was made by Past Commander John Stoner on the Mother's Day dinner and program carried out last week, which was one of the finest ever held.

Clarence A. Leslie, chairman of the Memorial Day committee, reported that decoration of the graves will take place on Sunday, May 28, and the Memorial Day services on the morning of May 30.

A dance committee, consisting of Ivor V. Davis, Frank Conner, and Jack La Rue was named.

Calling Of First Hague Conference Is Being Observed

Schools And Clubs Of New Castle Joining In "World Good Will Day"

Schools and clubs of New Castle are observing today as "World Good Will Day," which commemorates the calling of the first Hague Peace Conference at which the representatives of many nations arbitrated their differences.

Mrs. William Cosel, who attended a peace conference in Paris a year ago, explains that the day is observed in order that children of the world should stimulate friendship and understanding with each other, that they became more familiar with the children of nations other than their own.

Children of Wales broadcast a message a number of years ago on World Good Will Day and received just one or two replies. They continued the practice and last year had response from children of 40 or more nations.

One of these messages to Wales was sent by the children of Benjamin Franklin junior high school, this city.

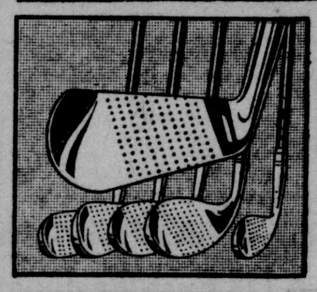

The Junior Woman's club is observing the occasion by promoting a project sponsored by the Committee on World Friendship Amongst Children, taking the form this year of a portfolio filled with pictures and carrying Good Will messages in both the Chinese and English languages. This will be sent to the children of China.

Report Indicates Lost Akron Chief Misjudged Storm

Naval Court Of Inquiry Finds Late Commander McCord Steered Into Storm

DISCIPLINE OF CREW PERFECT

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, May 18.—An error in judgment on the part of Comdr. Frank C. McCord, in charge of the airship Akron when it crashed to destruction April 4 with the loss of 73 lives, was a contributory cause to the catastrophe, the naval court of inquiry decided Wednesday.

The report of the court was made public today by Secretary of the Navy Swanson who said he had sent it to congress.

Sailed Into Storm.

The court said it was of the opinion the commanding officer "committed an error of judgment in not setting such courses that would have kept him in a safe semi-circle, thereby probably avoiding the severe conditions finally encountered and that this error in judgment was a contributory cause of the loss of the Akron.

The court also found that the final destruction of the Akron was caused by a "down current of wind of such magnitude that the lower fin struck the water before the descent could be checked."

"This contact of the fin with the water resulted in a progressive destruction and sinking of the Akron.

No Condemnation.

In view of the lack of information as to what prompted McCord to take the course he did, the court said that although what information was presented to it showed an erroneous decision, it did not, in the opinion of the court, justify a condemnation of McCord's action.

McCord was one of the 73 officers and enlisted men who lost their lives when the big airship crashed into the Atlantic off Barnegat Light, N. J., during a severe thunder and lightning storm. Rear-Admiral William A. Moffett, chief of the navy's bureau of aeronautics, also was a victim. Only the Akron's executive officer and two enlisted men were rescued.

Kid Chocolate Is Underweight

Odds May Favor Seaman Watson Friday Night When Title Bout Is Staged

CHOCOLATE ONLY SHADOW OF SELF

By DAVIS J. WALSH
International News Service Sports Editor.

NEW YORK, May 18.—Through a "leak" in the wall of secrecy and stealth, surrounding the fighter's camp at Orangeburg, comes the positive assurance today that, if Kid Chocolate can make a successful defense of what New York and kindred states call the world's featherweight championship tomorrow night it can mean only one of two things. It will mean either the Chocolate is a much better man than anybody has suspected or that Seaman Watson of England is much worse.

Briefly, the straightest sort of a tip is that Chocolate is no more than a grim caricature of the fighter New York last saw only a few months ago. It seems that the night life of gay Havana has caught up with the young man. He's burned out, lean like a clothes line and badly underweight.

Is Underweight.

They say he took a postponement last week because to try to fight then would have been silly. He was barely over the bantamweight limit at the time. Usually, he trains down from 130 pounds. Yesterday he weighed 124 and all efforts to build up were without tangible result. I might add that my authority for these statements couldn't be better.

The quotation on Chocolate last night was 2-1, with the inference that it will go higher the day of the fight. If the boys "rap" to the situation in time, the odds will do a dive off the deep end and come up with Watson.

Many insist, of course, that the latter is pretty comic and that he can't punch a hole in a paper napkin. That could be true and still not greatly affect the result, if the word on Chocolate's condition is all it seems to be. Chocolate may come out of it overnight. He's a good fighter—when right. Watson is not a good fighter—either right or wrong.

But you don't have to be too good if the other man happens to be bad.

Marcellas Lose Bocce Game, 65-45

Maciarello won their fourth Bocce game last evening on their own field. The Marcellas were beaten 65-45. Melito, De Carbo, Maroldi, D. Coci, Battiste, N. Coci and Anglione compose the winning team. Games will be played with Ellwood City and Koppel

Pee Wee Carney, featherweight in the stable of Bob Latera, is shaping up better with each succeeding day, according to Bob and he hopes to find plenty of pugilistic work for Pee Wee this summer. The last time out Pee Wee won by a mile margin in a Marion, O., ring. Latera reports that he cut received by Mountaineer Jack Kearns is healing nicely and he will return to the fistic war next month. Bob is drilling the big mountaineer for speed. He hits good, can assimilate plenty of punch and likes the game, Latera says.

Commissioners of the Lawrence County Baseball league have voted Catcher Calipetro of Bessemer eligible for play. Calipetro played with Scarazzo during the porepart of 1932 season. He was released and did not finish the season with the Scarazzo outfit which won the Lawrence County Baseball league pennant and also the baseball championship of the county. It is reported one or two league team managers questioned his eligibility, hence the decision.

There is one place which could be made a center of outdoor athletics and that is Dean park. According to fans this would make an ideal place for several diamonds and perhaps a couple of tennis courts. It would be easy of access. If recollection serves correctly council last year planned to put the park in condition for athletic activities. This season Director of streets Treser has aided the baseball and mushball players by having diamonds put in shape.

Old Sol came out yesterday and several of the boys who annually make a pilgrimage to Canada discussed fishing expeditions. According to Jimmy De Lawrence it isn't a difficult proposition to become lost among the channels at the Pennsylvania camp. And by the way we hear that Howard Cummings, New Wilmington, makes his own plugs. He is accredited as one of the best fishermen in this section. From what we have been told he got a lot of nice bass from local streams last season.

Maurie Fulkerson who helps protect game and fish in Pulaski vicinity says that Deer Creek has been given a good play by the trout fishermen and that the fish were stocked in the creek lived. Proof of this, he added, was shown by the catches. There are some good sized catfish in the Shenango in that vicinity, according to Maurie. Almost every night one can see fires along the Shenango indicating that anglers are trying to catch catfish. One chap caught a three and one half pound catfish near the Grant street bridge here.

Cumberland township high of Carmichaels defeated Waynesburg and Canonsburg high teams in a track and field meet yesterday at Waynesburg. The scores: Cumberland 63, Waynesburg 40 and Canonsburg 32.

Horse racing became legal yesterday in West Virginia when the time limit expired in which Governor Jump might have vetoed the measure. He vetoed a similar bill during the regular session because of an error in its title. Pari-Mutuel betting is legalized to raise revenue for schools, under the provisions of the law. The principal revenue will be from a levy of three percent gross receipts of all the Pari-Mutuel systems. In addition the law carries provision for collection of five percent levy upon all winning tickets and a 10 percent license fee for operators of the Pari-Mutuels. It is expected racing will start late this summer.

Berger Clouts Eighth Homer

Boston Braves Outfielder Will Try To Break Record Set By Babe Ruth

FOXX-SIMMONS HIT BALL HARD

By LES CONKLIN
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, May 18.—Walter (Biff) Berger, rangy outfielder of the Boston Braves, who hit his eighth circuit clout of the season yesterday, and now leads the sluggers of both major circuits in that specialty, may be the coming home run king of the big leagues.

When the big fellow from the coast came up with the Braves in 1930 he walloped 38 homers, a truly remarkable feat for a first year man. That was a banner year for circuit clouts, however, and his sensational slugging was overshadowed with Hack Wilson hitting 56 homers, Ruth 49, Gehrig 41 and Klein 40.

Helps Braves Win

Berger's four-bagger output slumped to 19 in 1931 and to 17 last year, but his record pace this season indicates he may be the man destined to crack Ruth's mark of 60, if anybody ever turns the trick. His homer yesterday featured a six-run rally staged by the Braves in trouncing Cincinnati, 8 to 0, behind Ed. Brandt's three-hit pitching.

Jimmy Fox hit his fourth homer of the year, his first since April 24th, but the A's lost to the White Sox, 5 to 2, when the Sox knocked Rube Walberg out of the box and scored all their runs in a big eighth-inning rally. Al Simmons, former Philadelphia idol making his first appearance in an alien uniform in Quakertown, hit three singles, drove in one run and scored another.

Cronin Hits Hard

With the help of Manager Joe Cronin, who collected four hits for a perfect day at bat, the Senators beat the slipping Cleveland Indians again, 3 to 2, and gained undisputed possession of second place in the American League race. Alvin Crowder outpitched Wes Ferrell.

The Yankees held on to their slim lead when their star southpaw, Vernon Gomez, tamed the Tigers, 4 to 1. Bill Dickey made three hits and the portly Babe Ruth actually beat out a bunt.

George Pipgras, former Yankee mound ace traded down the river to Boston where there are plenty of beans and codfish but no world series checks, showed he was far from downhearted by beating the St. Louis Browns, 7 to 3, in his first start for the Red Sox. Alexander and Hodapp made three hits apiece and Alexander sent Sammy West to the hospital when his throw hit the Brownie outfielder in the face.

Berly Breaks Leg

There were two other casualties. John Berly, Philly pitcher, fractured his right leg sliding home as the Quakers lost to Pittsburgh, 6 to 4.

Fred Heimach, Brooklyn's stylish stout, twisted an ankle in St. Louis. The Dodgers nosed out the Cards 3 to 2, by scoring three runs in the ninth on singles by O'Doul and Frederick and triples by Flower and Judge. It was the third successive game that the Dodgers had pulled out of the fire with a ninth inning rally, and Frederick's hit was the seventh in two days. He is now the National League's leading batter.

The Giants and Cubs were not scheduled, Pittsburgh increasing its lead over the New Yorkers to a full game.

McLarnin And Corbett Agree On Glove Weight

(International News Service)

LOS ANGELES, May 18.—Young Corbett, III, world's welterweight champion, and Jimmy McLarnin, the challenger, will wear 5½ ounce gloves in their title fight here May 29.

Weight of the gloves was agreed upon today following a conference between their managers and the state athletic commission. Both battlers posted forfeits.

Corbett speeded up his boxing practice yesterday at Santa Monica, while McLarnin went through routine paces with sparring partners at the Olympic club.

Three Baseball Players Injured

John Berly, Sammy West And Fred Heimach Will Be On Shelf For While

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, May 18.—Three big league players were on the shelf today as a result of injuries sustained in yesterday's games.

John Berly, Philly pitcher, fractured his right leg in the game with Pittsburgh when his spikes caught in the plate as he slid home. He will be out of action for at least a month. Fred Heimach, Brooklyn pitcher, twisted an ankle when he fell while pitching in St. Louis. Sam West, outfielder of the St. Louis Browns, suffered a fracture of a small bone when struck in the face by a ball thrown by Dale Alexander, first baseman of the Boston Red Sox.

Due to the Tigers-Polish N. A. game today the West Pittsburg and Peerless clubs will play at West Pittsburg at 6:30 p. m., D. S. T., instead of on the Peerless field today. All Peerless players should report at the West Side Billiards to be hauled to West Pittsburg, according to Business Manager Sunny Wheale.

Ryder Cup Team Plans Completed

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, May 18.—Final plans for the European junket of the American Ryder cup team have been completed, it was announced today by Horton Smith, playing member and secretary of the team.

After the national open golf tournament closes here June 10 the Ryder cup men will assemble at New York, prepared to sail on June 14, Smith said. In case the winner of the national open is not one of the nine members of the Ryder team he will be added to the squad, increasing the membership to ten, Smith explained.

Lindstrom Has Helped Pirates

Former Giant Star Has Made Pittsburgh Pennant Contender This Year

HAS PRAISE FOR BIG BILL TERRY

(International News Service)

FORBES FIELD, PITTSBURGH, May 18.—Freddie Lindstrom, former New York Giants' star whose all-around play is a big factor in keeping the Pittsburgh Pirates in front of the National League pack, took time out from a practice session today to pay his respects to Bill Terry's surprising Giants.

"It is no accident that the Giants are fighting for first place," said the slugging centerfielder. "The 'stuff' that Hal Schumacher and Roy Parmelee showed me was a revelation.

"Take Hubbell. He's one of the greatest pitchers of the league, and Fitzsimmons also."

And what, demanded the reporter cautiously, did Lindstrom think of Bill Terry and his managerial ability?

Freddie said:

"Why that's one of the big factors in the club's success. Bill is using fine judgment and his players are for him to a man.

"Blondy Ryan is playing good ball at short. So is Vergez at third. In fact, the whole club looks to me as if it will stay in the first division."

He concluded:

"You might add that Davis is an improvement in center field."

Allow Each League Team 16 Players

Lawrence County Baseball league club managers will have to wield the paring knife during the next day or more to comply with the rule which prohibits any team carrying more than 16 players after May 19. No doubt the managers will hand out releases today and Friday.

DIAMOND DUST

There ought to be a good game on Glasser field today as neither the Tigers nor the Polish N. A. have lost a game in the American loop of the county league. Smolnik and Soho will be the battery for the Polish and it looks like Houston and Hughes will pitch and catch for the Tigers.

Mahoning's heavy hitters came through again yesterday and Serwatka, six foot hurler for the Brent miners, suffered. Russo was given good support but the big lad from Brent had to overcome several errors, one of which he made himself.

Colored Monarchs will play to a good crowd when they tackle Volant on the Cedar street field at 6:30 p. m., D. S. T. The teams are in the National loop of the county league. Lefty Miller will pitch for the Rurals and Garside will do the flinging for the Monarchs.

Patterson had three assists when the Fairmont A. C. won from the James. Ridley had 14 putouts at first for the James team.

Faichey, a catcher, scored two of the four runs that gave Colonials a one-run margin over the Syrian Eagles.

Barechuck, left fielder for Brent, had four putouts yesterday when he speaker Mahoning batters' blows.

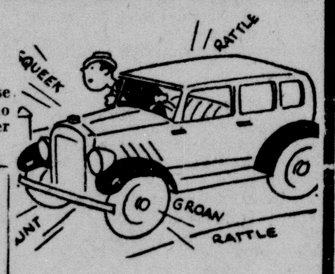

Baseball Comish' To Enforce Rule

Protests Must Be Accompanied By Forfeit They State

No protest will be considered by the Lawrence County Baseball league commission, composed of Miz Dart, Lefty Parks and E. Fritz unless the managers deliver the signed protest within 48 hours after the cause for the protest and it is accompanied by a forfeit of $2.00.

ONE PLAY IS DROPPED AT WESTMINSTER

Illness Causes One Of Three-Act Productions To Be Eliminated

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., May 18.—Illness to Herbert Smith, New Castle, a member of the cast of "The Theatre of the Soul", has necessitated the elimination of this production from the program of one-act plays to be produced by Westminster College students on Friday night.

Smith, a senior, was taken to the Jameson Memorial hospital, New Castle, this week to undergo an operation for appendicitis. Since it was impossible to recast the play in time, it was eliminated.

Believe American Ranchmen Kidnaped By Mexican Bandits

Posse Of Ranchmen From Texas Will Cross Border To Hunt For Missing Men

(International News Service)

ALPINE, Tex., May 18.—Possmen recruited from the Big Bend cattle country by C. L. Hannold were to ride across the border into Mexico today to rescue Hannold's son, Arthur, and another American rancher, John Rollins, who are believed held by Mexican kidnapers.

Rollins and Young Hannold disappeared ten days ago when they crossed into Mexico to recover a herd of horses driven off the Hannon ranch by rustlers.

The missing man's father said he had learned that the two Americans had been seized by Candalario Bisa, renegade border desperado wanted by both Mexican and Texas authorities for a seven year career of outlawry.

In the next big parley over disarmament England will probably demand that American golfers be reduced to two-thirds their present strength.

Americanism: Feeling superior to those who are bossed by a king; permitting a centralization of wealth that soon will control all the jobs.

Bessemer High Defeats Wampum

Triple By Tropea In Fifth Inning Breaks Up Fine Pitching Duel At Wampum

Coach Frederick's Bessemer high baseball team hung a 3 to 2 defeat on the fast Wampum high team yesterday afternoon in a County League game at the Wampum field. Pepe outpitched Lameuile to gain the victory. Wampum had eight hits off Pepe but could not hit when hits meant runs. Bessemer only had five hits off Lameuile, but a triple by Tropea turned the trick in the fifth inning for the winning run.

Szula and Lameuile did the best hitting for Wampum, with Throop, and Tropea doing the best hitting for Bessemer. Henry Marshall a consistent Bessemer slugger had a bad day at bat fanninf three times.

Bessemer will play Shenango Monday night at Shenango high field and Thursday Shenango will go to Bessemer, for the playing of two postponed games.

Score by innings:		R.	H.	E.
Bessemer	200 010—3	5	2

Orrs Team Tops Monarchs 3 To 0

Orrs baseball team of the National league gave the New Castle Monarchs a 3 to 0 defeat last evening at the Lehigh Field in a regular scheduled league battle. Mazzeri on the mound for Orrs allowed only three hits.

Friday night at the Lehigh Field the Orrs will play the Castlewood team in a league game, and Saturday afternoon at the Lehigh Field will play the Volant team. Both games will be fast and the Orrs hope to extend their winning streak.

Aliquippa To Play Mahoning

Manager Nick Cangey Believes Hutnic May Be League's Ace

Nick Cangey, manager of the Mahoning, National loop, Lawrence County league club foresees Steve Hutnic winning a lot of ball tilts this season. He says that Steve is in fine physical condition and barring accident "Steve's going to be the ace of league hurlers."

Another chap who has Nick's heart playing rapturously is Orlando (whom Nick calls 'The Great'). According to an early check of statistics Cangey says he is hitting and fielding better than last year when Mahoning was the big noise in the Twilight league.

The Mahoning manager has shifted C. Pecarro to right field due to Mickey Huff taking over the guardianship of second and Mash may be home soon from Philadelphia to cover his own berth in center. Mash was called there owing to illness.

Jerry Piccaro is said to be one of the sweetest hot corner players in the league and Cangey has hopes of Nick Perotta, rookie first baseman showing a lot of stuff. S. Dominick has taken good care of left field and his berth is assured.

Miron, a youngster is showing a lot more stuff this year than he did last season and it looks as though Nick's outfit will be able to give the Grays of Aliquippa plenty to worry about when the non-league game is played on the E. & A. field today at 5:30 p. m. E. S. T.

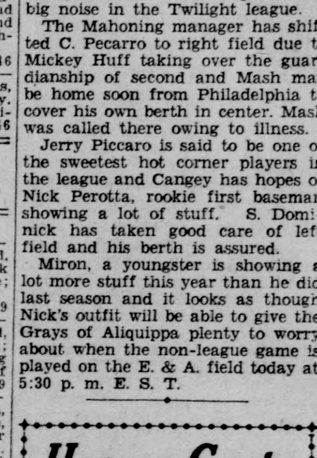

Heroes-Goats In Big League

(International News Service)

The hero—Joe Cronin, Washington. Had perfect day at bat with four hits as Senators beat Cleveland, 3 to 2.

The goat—Jim Peterson, Athletics. Summoned from bull pen to rescue Rube Walberg when the White Sox put on an eighth inning rally, he pitched to only two batters but was charged with the defeat.

Murder Defendant

An excellent portrait study of Harry Murch, 16-year-old Queens, N. Y., boy, who is on trial charged with the murder of a 12-year-old playmate, Willie Bender, last January. Murch is shown in Queens County Court, as he listened to the testimony on his case.

New Advances In Stock Market

American Can Is Leader On Reports Of Upturn In Business

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, May 18.—Aggresive sponsorship in the rails maintained bullish enthusiasm in Wall Street today and sent the stock market up 1 to 3 points for the third successive advance.

A number of issues were notably laggard, however, especially steel common, General Motors, the coppers and American Telephone. The latter met further profit-taking on the good news of yesterday's dividend and failed to recapture its previous buoyancy.

American Can was a strong leader, rising 3 points to a new high on reports of a fresh upturn in business. Rail equipments were higher with the carriers. Pacing shares failed to reflect the rise in hog prices to a new top. Utilities were backward as a result of the omission late yesterday of the dividend on Standard Gas $4 preferred.

KOPPEL

SCHOOL CHILDREN TO GIVE PROGRAM

KOPPEL, May 18.—Due to the limited seating space, tickets will be used in the annual musical program, to be presented this evening in the Koppel M. E. church on Second avenue by children from the Koppel public schools. The tickets will be distributed to the various homes so that the parents may be able to get seats. Two tickets will be given to each family. This action was taken by school officials in view of the capacity crowd that is expected.

All is in readiness for the concert and the director of music, Elmer Kanagy, has arranged a very interesting program. Forty numbers will be featured, including piano solos, vocal solos, group singing and various other musical novelties. A chorus consisting of pupils from fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth grades will render five lovely songs.

The doors will be open at 7:30 and the concert will begin promptly one half hour later.

KOPPEL WOMAN IS INJURED IN FALL

KOPPEL, May 18.—Mrs. Emanuel Linzey, Second avenue, suffered from very painful and severe injury, received when she fell down an entire flight of cellar stairs in her home about 10 o'clock Wednesday morning. She had been washing clothes and neighbors were attracted to her home by her screams.

She was rushed to the Providence hospital in Beaver Falls where after an X-ray it was disclosed that she suffered from a compound fracture of the right arm and body bruises. Her condition this morning was encouraging, but she will remain in the hospital for at least three or four days.

RECEIVE ANNUALS

The various school districts in the county received the Beaver county school annuals this week. The annual contains interesting material concerning directors, teachers, finances and news of school districts. Among the information interesting to Koppel people was the result of the eighth grade promotion tests in the school in 1932. Thirty-three students took the tests 27 passing and six failing, for an average of 88 per cent. The highest scores for Koppel pupils were made by Mary Jane McCarthy, 205, and Elaine Shellenberg, 203. The highest possible score was 273. In attendance for the year 1931-32, Koppel awarded 21 seals and 28 certificates. J. G. Muder, principal in the Koppel school, is president of the Beaver county branch, P. S. E. A.

KOPPEL NOTES

Mr. and Mrs. William McDanel, former Koppel residents, have moved from their home in Beaver Falls to New Galilee.

With the rain letting up, many local unemployed are again working in gardens. Almost every possible field is being utilized for cultivation. Seeds and fertilizer are being given out by the welfare.

The Koppel baseball team is making plans for a busy season. Games have been booked with many good teams, including McDonald, Mahoningtown, New Brighton and others.

Mayor Imposes Penalty Of $300

Heavy Fine For Violation Of City Law On Sales By Outsider

APPEAL IS TAKEN BY DEFENDANT

Julius Darsky, representative of the Golden Age Beverage Company of Youngstown, charged with doing business here without having complied with the requirements of the city ordinance, which makes it compulsory to register with the police before doing business in this city, was found guilty by Mayor Charles B. Mayne, following a hearing Wednesday afternoon and sentenced to pay a fine of $300, which sentence carries with it the alternative of ninety days in the county jail, if the fine is not paid.

Counsel for Darsky, immediately gave notice of an appeal to the county court and bond for the defendant in the sum of $500 was posted for his appearance at the county court.

Advised of the appeal, Mayor Charles B. Mayne, remarked that he was glad to have a test case made on the ordinance, which is designed to protect the people of this community, and that it was time to determine whether or not this community can control its own business life or have it controlled from over the Ohio line.

Detective C. C. Horner was the first witness at the hearing and told of the arrest of Darsky, while Chief of Police John F. Haven told of the failure of Darsky to register.

Darsky told of bringing seventeen cases of beer along with his soft drink products and selling two cases, but claimed he had orders and was merely doing it to accommodate his trade.

John McIntosh testified to the purchase of two cases, which he had ordered. Ted Marlin testified as to the ordering of some beer which he never received. Similar testimony was given by Guy Angelucci of this city and J. E. Carr of Union township relative to the ordering of beer from Darsky and in the case of the latter of the purchase of the same.

With the completion of the taking of testimony, City Solicitor R. M. White, who was in charge of the prosecution, argued that the only question at stake was the violation of the city ordinance, which required that all persons wishing to do business here, must register with the police. The question of interstate commerce was in no way concerned, he stated.

The defense presented by Attorney Dickey was in effect that Mr. Darsky under interstate commerce regulations could sell his own product that it was sold, when there was no regulating law in Pennsylvania. He contended that it was not necessary for Darsky to register with the police.

Some News, Some Views, But Mostly Just Observations Of Interesting Things Around New Castle

Here it is past May 15 and the straw hats are still shelf-bound or else some of the veteran skimmers were given a furlough after last season. Under the dictates of the style setter, May 15, is the day when felts are relegated to the shelf for a while and the forgotten straw gets its place in the sun. But this year it seems different.

There are a few hardy pioneering souls of course who have been seen in public places with their last year's straws perched rakishly athwart one ear. And one of the scouts reporting seeing a brand new straw on the street but this has not been corroborated yet.

* * *

Guessing the weight of a horse seems to be as difficult a matter as guessing the weight of a girl and you know how difficult that is. You have to hold them in your arms to get an idea, but you can't do that with a horse.

* * *

Which may be why there was so much variance in the guesses in the Marquis Blacksmith shop the other afternoon. A young horse was parked there in the shop and someone wondered what it weighed. About twenty horsemen were present and a few guesses were launched.

* * *

Somebody suggested a pool, much like a ship's run pool at sea, with the winner taking down all the entrance fees. A dime was the fee and the guessing. The weights ranged from 850 to 1175, with all of the guesses made by experts.

* * *

A non-horseman came in and wanted to know what was going on. He was not an expert he admitted, knew nothing about the gear shifts or differentials of a horse but he would take a chance.

* * *

Taking all the guesses of the experts he averaged them and got a figure of 985 pounds, which he submitted as his guess. And you know what happened The horse just weighed 985 pounds which is guessing fairly close. Almost too close in fact.

* * *

Seems odd but newspaper men eventually get into gardening or farming either as a hobby or as a business. Bert Wells seems to be the latest recruit to the nursery hobby. That is an evergreen nursery. You may remember that Bert Wells was once editor of The News.

Then he went into the money-raising business, that is he raised money from a lot of people for some worthy organization to spend, and had a lot of fun doing it. Also made some money, a lot of it I hope.

* * *

Now he has the old family farmstead in West Virginia converted into an evergreen nursery, with all the usual trick looking trees scattered around by thousands. Pines, junipers, spruces and larches, maples and elms and what have you.
